

Longing To Catch The Big Bass Then Lake Fork Fishing Will Fulfill Your Wishes

The lake is located near the small city of Quitman, Texas on the northern edge of the state in Wood County. This quaint city is a relaxing escape for many trying to get away from the big city for awhile. Lake Fork fishing is famous in this area.

If you're planning a fishing trip to this lake and want to know when the best time to go is, here are some things to consider. This is trophy bass country and bass like to stay in the water temperature between 65 and 75 degrees. If it is too hot they are going to go deeper making it harder for you to catch them. During the summer fishing at night or on a cloudy day would be most favorable.

Spawning season is during the spring months. The females will have laid their eggs and will be searching for food in the shallower waters. They are also active after it rains because the rain brings new nutrients into the water that they need. Anytime the waters are at their favorite temperatures they will go into feeding frenzies and can be easy found in shallower waters.

This lake is mainly known for its Largemouth Bass however there are other varieties of fish residing within the lake as well. There are Bluegill and a couple different species of Crappies and Catfish. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department established this lake and stocked it with over seven hundred thousand Florida Black Bass between 1979 and 1987. Each year around three hundred thousand visitors come here to fish for the big bass.

The best time to fish for the Largemouth Bass is during the spring, fall and winter months. The winter months are the best for the Crappies and the summer months for the Bluegills. Fishing at the lake is sure to be successful any time of the year, it just depends on what you want to fish for.

A three day tournament is held every May called the Legend of Lake Fork. Prizes and cash winnings totaling $237,000 are available at this year's event. The biggest fish caught are awarded the cash prizes. This is determined by the weight and the length of the fish. They must be at least 24 inches or more and 10 pounds or more to be considered a winner. Last years winning bass weighed 13.11 pounds. The enthusiasm of last year's event prompted the sponsors to add an additional day to the tournament.

There are five days during the months of February through May when they host the Lake Fork Team Trail Tournament. Only two people to a team are allowed. They can bring photos back of the fish for consideration as winners if they cannot catch one with a length of at least 24 inches to bring back in. They receive their official photo cards when they register and have their cameras inspected before going on the lake. Bringing in the winning fish or photo of the winning fish will earn them $500.

The first World Championship Bass Fly Fishing Tournament will be held this year. The month of May has been the chosen month to conduct this event. Fishing is not limited to a boat. You can also use a float tube, pontoon or from the shoreline. Twelve hundred dollars is the purse for first place.

The guides that assist visitors with Lake Fork fishing are unique. They are professional and personable making everyone feel like they got their money's worth. They know the patterns of the fish and make each trip a successful catch for novice anglers. They are knowledgeable fishermen and share information on bait, boats and techniques.
